Implementation of Export Control Reform

Kevin Wolf
Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Export Administration

Note: This presentation is merely a summary of official statements and final rules published by the Departments of Commerce and State. Final rules, as well as the Export Administration Regulations and International Traffic in Arms Regulations, must be reviewed to determine the full scope of any applicable requirements.
Topics

• ECR Background/Summary
• Determining Changes in Jurisdiction
  • Order of Review
  • USML Framework/600 Series Framework
  • “Specially Designed”
• Authorization for Items Moving from USML to CCL
ECR Background

- In August 2009, President Obama directed the agencies involved in the U.S. export control system to conduct a broad-based review of export controls to identify additional ways to enhance U.S. national security.

- In April 2010, former Secretary of Defense Gates described how national security required a fundamental reform of the export control system.
To enhance national security, the Administration determined that the export control system needed to be reformed to:

- Increase interoperability with NATO and other close allies;
- Reduce the current incentives for companies in non-embargoed countries to design out or avoid US-origin content; and
- Allow the Administration to focus its resources on the transactions of greater concern.
ECR Background

• To implement the objectives, the Administration needed to:
  - Identify the specific sensitive and other items on a more positive USML that warrant individual license reviews even for ultimate end use by NATO and other regime allies; and
  - Amend the EAR and the CCL to control all formerly USML items that would no longer be on the revised USML so that they still could be controlled as military items, but in a more flexible way regarding such allies.
Summary

- Items that are now defense articles but that are no longer listed on the revised USML categories will become subject to the EAR’s “600 series” ECCNs.

- Licenses from Commerce will still be required to export and reexport most 600 series items worldwide (minus Canada), unless an EAR license exception is available.

- New license exception STA will be available to authorize exports and reexports to 36 countries if (a) for ultimate end use by a government of such countries, (b) return to the US, or (c) in connection with an existing authorization.

- Will make defense trade in the supply chain for NATO and other allies more efficient.

- Will have compliance obligations.

Final rules available at www.bis.doc.gov.
The Departments of Commerce and State have published proposed or final rules on the following aspects of ECR:

- All changes in the jurisdictional status of items will need to comply with the congressional notification requirements of § 38(f) of the AECA.
- Executive Order 13637 sets out the new delegations of authority for the administration of the new rules.
- Final rules will have a six-month delay in implementation after publication (in addition to a two-year optional grandfathering period for existing USML authorizations.)

ECR Background

Framework: more “positive” USML and establishment of “600 series” structure

Revised USML categories: will continue to publish proposed and final revisions to USML categories and corresponding “600 series” ECCNs

“Specially Designed”: definition of the term for both the ITAR and EAR

Transition/Implementation: grandfathering, changes to license exceptions and license structure

    • Specifically enumerated items
USML Framework

- Control text for:
  - End platforms and major systems
  - Parts, components, accessories, and attachments
  - Classified articles

600 Series Framework

Former USML items (and -018 items) listed in the “Items” paragraph.

Order of review:

- .a - .w: specifically enumerated end items, materials, parts, components,.

“600 series” derives its name from the 3rd character of the ECCN.

Section 744.21 currently imposes a license requirement for exports or reexports of certain items subject to the EAR when one knows such items are intended, entirely or in part, for a military end use in China or for a military end use or military end user in Russia.

- All 600 series items (including .y items) will require a license when destined for China or Russia – see new § 744.21(a)(2)
Definition of “Specially Designed”

- New definition of “specially designed” is based on a catch-and-release construct
- Requires answering a series of yes/no questions that lead to an objective determination whether an item is “specially designed”
- Definition is found in Part 772 and is described in an online decision tree tool published by BIS

Determining Changes in Jurisdiction

- Prior commodity jurisdiction (CJ) determinations
  - CJs that determined item was subject to the ITAR
    - If item is moving from the USML to the CCL, then CJ superseded. No need for additional CJ unless there is doubt.
  - CJs that determined item was subject to the EAR
    - If item was not classified in an existing “-018” ECCN at the time of determination, the item will not be controlled under the 600 series
    - If item was not listed on the CCL at the time of determination (i.e., designated EAR99), the item will remain EAR99, unless later enumerated in an entry on the USML or CCL
Options for Authorizing Items
Moving from the USML to the CCL

- Transactions authorized prior to effective date:
  - Grandfather existing DDTC licenses, agreements, or other approvals beyond effective date of final rule per DDTC transition plan
  - Maintain DDTC approval until effective date but pre-position BIS license application or utilize license exception or NLR designation upon effective date

- Transactions after effective date
  - Obtain BIS license, use license exception, or use

- Default four-year validity period
- May export or reexport to and among end users listed on license
- No purchase order required
- No large agreements to draft or lengthy agreement guidelines to follow
- May pre-position applications prior to effective date of applicable final rule
DDTC § 120.5(b) Approvals

- DDTC may license items subject to the EAR pursuant to Executive Order 13637
  - § 734.3(e) of the EAR
  - §§ 120.5(b), 120.42, 123.1(b), and 123.9(b) of the ITAR

- Items subject to the EAR must be used in or with items subject to the ITAR

- Items subject to the EAR that are licensed under § 120.5(b) remain subject to the EAR
Export Clearance

- Furnishing Classification to Consignees
  - Exports under EAR: must supply 600 series ECCN on export control documents
  - Exports under DDTC § 120.5(b) Approval: must supply EAR classification (§ 123.9(b)(2))

- Automated Export System
  - BIS Authorizations
    - All exports of 600 series items (except .y items) require AES filing, regardless of value or destination
    - Exports of .y items exempt from AES filing when value is $2500 or less or when destined for Canada
  - All exports authorized under STA require AES filing
Reexport Considerations

- De minimis: foreign-made items incorporating below de minimis levels of controlled U.S. content are generally not subject to the EAR
  - Foreign-made items incorporating U.S.-origin 600 series content (described in paragraphs .a through .x) will not be subject to the EAR so long as: (1) the value of the controlled U.S. content comprises 25% or less of the total value of the foreign item; and (2) the foreign-made item will not be destined to countries in Country Group D:5
  - If the foreign-made item incorporates any amount of U.S.-origin 600 series .y items only, then reexports of the foreign-made item will not be subject to the EAR, unless it is destined for Cuba, China, Iran, North Korea, Sudan, or Syria
  - If the foreign-made item incorporates any amount of U.S.-origin 600 series content (other than .y items) and is destined to a country subject to a U.S. arms embargo, then reexports of the foreign-made item will be subject to the EAR

- Direct product rule: certain foreign-made items that are the direct product of certain U.S. origin technology or software are subject to the EAR when reexported to certain destinations
  - Foreign-made 600 series items that are the direct product of U.S.-origin 600 series technology or software require authorization under the EAR when reexported to countries in Country Groups D:1, D:3, D:4, D:5, or E:1
